Author Index to Volume II

Amstutz, Jakob. Philosophers on death, 129
Benoliel, Jeanne Q. The changing social context for life and death decisions, 65
Beshai, James A., and Templer, Donald I. American and Egyptian attitudes toward death, 155
Bishop, Agnes J. Participation of life-threatened children and their parents in therapeutic decision making, 95
Cappon, Daniel. Attitudes of the ageing toward death, 139
McCorkle, Ruth. Patient contact with physicians during terminal illness, 85 de Jong-Gierveld, Jenny. The construct of loneliness: Components and measurement,221
Degner, Lesley F. Guest editorial: Life-death decision making in health care, 61
Farquhar, Marcia. Applicant expectations of homes for the aged and the need for preadmission counselling, 33
Haas-Hawkings, Gwen. Intimacy as a moderating influence on the stress of loneliness in widowhood,249
Henteleff, Paul D. Treatment decisions in the care of the dying, 75
Kirk, Brian W. Medical decision-making in the critically ill, 79
Ontario's proposed "natural death act", 107
Ontario Psychogeriatric Association Annual Meeting, 1978, 189
Peplau, Lititia A., and Caldwell, Mayta A. Loneliness: A cognitive analysis,207
Perlman, Daniel, Gerson, Ann C., and Spinner, Barry. Loneliness among senior citizens: An empirical report,239
Posner, Judith. Old and female: The double whammy, 41
Posner, Judith. Book review of Daniel Jay Baum's "Warehouses for death: The nursing home industry", 171
Reid, David W., and Ziegler, Michael. A survey of the reinforcements and activities elderly citizens feel are important for their general happiness, 5
Schulz, Carol M., and Cox, Scott C. Perceived responsibility in decision-making in ethical death issues: The professional socialization of nurses, 113
Second International Seminar on Terminal Care, 175
Sermat, Vello. Sources of loneliness,271
Shady, Gary. Coping styles of patients with life-threatening illness: A literature review, 149
Shedletsky, Ralph. Behaviour modification and the hospitalized elderly, 25
Thauberger, Patrick, C., Thauberger, Eileen M., and Cleland, John F. Affective measurements and a field setting simulating a death atmosphere, 159
Tindale, Joseph. The management of self among old men on skid row, 49
Wood, Linda. Loneliness, social identity and social structure,259
Wood, Linda. Guest editorial: "Perspectives on loneliness",199